HISTORY

Birth of the Navy Vets

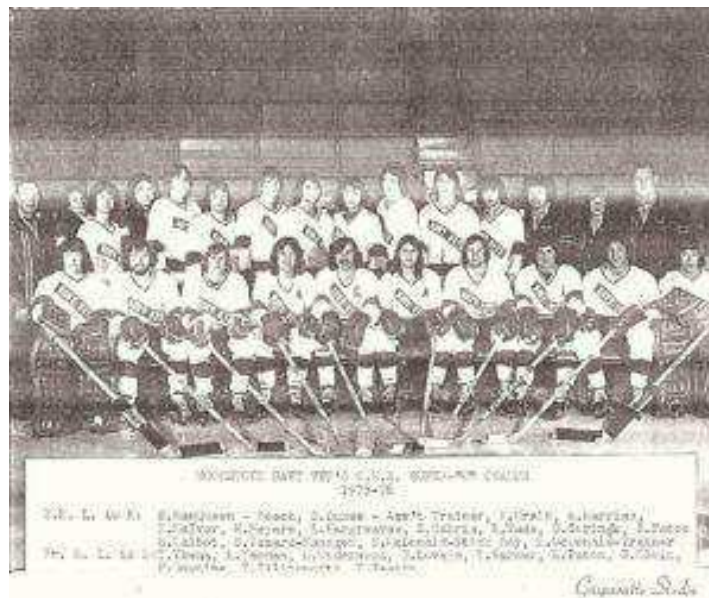

The Woodstock Navy-Vets were founded by Sam Keeping and a executive committee in 1966-67 when they were granted a Junior C franchise by the OHA ... they spent their early seasons playing in the Intercounty Junior C Hockey League.

Championship Seasons

The Navy Vets won their only OHA Junior C Championship in the 1968-69 season, eliminating Dresden 4 games-to-0 in the quarter-final and New Hamburg 4 games-to-1 in the semi-final before beating Oakville Blades in 7 games in the final.

The Navy Vets dominated the OHA Super C Series winning 5 titles in 6 seasons during the early 1970s.

Franchise History

In 1971-72 the Vets moved to the Western Junior B Hockey League when the ICJCHL disbanded.

In 1972-73 the Vets moved to the Western (Central) Junior C Hockey League.

In 1976-77 the Navy-Vets helped found the Southwestern Junior B Hockey League, and played in that league for the 2 seasons that it existed, along with the London Diamonds, St. Thomas Colonels, Tillsonburg Mavericks, Simcoe Jets, and Brantford Penguins.

In 1978-79 the Navy-Vets joined the Niagara District Junior C Hockey League, where they played until 2013-14.

George S. Dudley Trophy Super "C" Appearances

This trophy was awarded during the 1970s to a new class of junior hockey known as Super "C". The teams that competed were deemed to be from centres too small for Junior "B" but yet too big for Junior "C". The cities that competed for it: Barrie (MOJBHL) , Woodstock (ICJCHL & CJCHL) , Kitchener (CJBHL & WOJHL) , Owen Sound (CJCHL) , and Brantford (CJCHL); struggled throughout that decade to find Junior "B" leagues that suited their needs. While waiting, these teams generally played "down" in the Junior "C" level and awaited the Super "C" playoffs. The class was disbanded by 1976 as the only teams eligible for the championship had found homes in Junior "B".

1970: lost 4-2 to Barrie Colts

1971: defeated Kitchener Ranger B's 4-2 to win title

1972: no championship playoff

1973: defeated Kitchener Ranger B's 4-3 with 1 tie to win title

1974: defeated Owen Sound Salvagemen 4-0 to win title

1975: defeated Owen Sound Salvagemen 3-0 to win title

1976: defeated Brantford Penguins 4-0 to win title

Renegades

The Woodstock franchise under new ownership changed from its traditional Navy-Vets moniker & logo and ended its 41-year relationship with the Oxford County Naval Veterans Association at their 2007 awards banquet.

The Woodstock Renegades played their first game under a new name to begin a new era in team history in September of the 2007-08 season.

The Renegades struggled to attract fans and even though their on-ice play was pretty good during their 3 seasons.

Navy Vets reborn

The Woodstock franchise returned to its roots for the 2010-11 season after 3 seasons as the Renegades becoming the Navy Vets once again, and back to the original logo and colours.

Community ownership group begins new team era

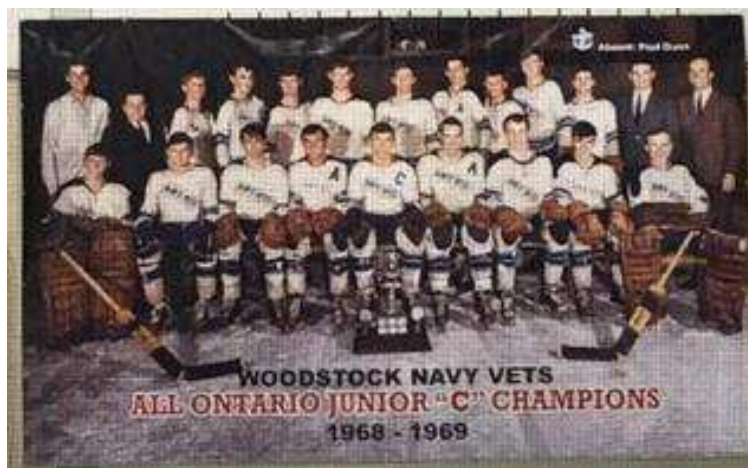

The Navy Vets announced major organizational changes for the 2013-14 season !!!!

A local group of Woodstock community members will represent the Navy Vets as it's Board of Directors committed to taking the team back to a pillar of excellence in the community both on and off the ice that it once was.

The Navy Vets also became a member of the new Midwestern Junior C Hockey league for 2013-14 ... formed from the OHA Junior C realignment of the NDJCHL West Division & SOJHL ... they joined Norwich, New Hamburg, and Paris from the old NDJCHL West Division along with Ayr, Burford, Delhi, Tavistock and Wellesley from the SOJHL McConnell Division in the new league.

Following their worst season in franchise history in that initial season the team changed their fortunes around getting 20 or more wins in 4 of the next 6 seasons and making the Division SF twice while accumulating many awards and accolades to complete the decade.
